

Hello,

This message you are receiving is from Lucy, I used to be a part of the Saxon gang. I am writing to inform you that I have decided to assist you in getting back the painting on the condition that I am not to be prosecuted for taking it. The rest of the gang has taken Danny and locked him in a location that is unknown to me. I do not know much about where they are but I'll tell you what I do know. Before I do, however, I must ensure that it is indeed you receiving this message. Harold and Tom must not know I am sending you this message, please solve the puzzle below to ensure that I am sending this to the right person.

Thanks,
Lucy
